Cepsa is extending its extraordinary fuel discount during the first quarter of 2023 to up to 12 cents per liter. This includes an extension of the 10 cent discount the company has been offering to customers of its loyalty program since April and an additional 2 cent discount the company will offer to customers who refuel with Óptima premium. The fuel discount is fully covered by the company, which is maintaining its commitment to its customers in the context of the current energy crisis and high inflation.

All private customers who are part of the free 'Porque Tú Vuelves' program will obtain the discount through any form of identification (card, app or national ID). Professional customers who are part of the 'Starressa Direct' program will also benefit from the discount of up to 12 cents per liter. The discount is in addition to others offered by the company through different promotions and partner loyalty programs.

The discounts will continue to apply to any type of fuel (gasoline, diesel, natural gas vehicles and liquefied gas) and will be available throughout Cepsa's network of 1,500 service stations in Spain.

Any private customer can easily join the 'Porque Tú Vuelves' program and the rest of the company's loyalty programs with immediate effect and free of charge at the point of sale or on Cepsa's website.
